PrismaLife Further Expands its Range of Sustainable Funds

- ◆ Clients can choose from 29 sustainable funds
- ◆ Investments with a strong environmental, social, and governance effect have been chosen
- ◆ Sustainability report shows that consistent focus is fully integrated into the strategy

Ruggell, May 12th, 2020- PrismaLife has expanded its range of sustainable funds for its customers by a further 18 funds. The range includes seven managed equity funds and three bond containing funds. In addition, there are seven exchange traded funds and one microfinance fund. All have been given above-average sustainability ratings by Morningstar. Clients of the Liechtenstein insurer can now choose from 29 renowned sustainability funds to expand their assets while also considering ecological and social aspects as well as responsible corporate governance.

"More and more people want to manage their assets responsibly. By consistently taking sustainability aspects into account in our fund range, we offer our clients the opportunity to invest in a yield-oriented and sustainable manner," said Mr. Holger Beitz, Chief Executive Officer of PrismaLife. He added, "Sustainability pays off, for our clients and for us. We are convinced of this."

Investment with a strong environmental, social and governance effect

PrismaLife has made a comprehensive commitment to sustainability: Already at the end of 2018, PrismaLife completely converted its investment for the cover pool to ESG criteria (environment, social, and governance). With several optimization steps, the insurer achieved an above-average sustainability score of 75.4 percent at the end of 2019. The ESG criteria were implemented in addition to the classic investment criteria of security and profitability.

PrismaLife has also taken into account the topic of "socially responsible financing", which are investments that are considered responsible for society. The criteria are based on the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment. Using so-called "negative filters", the insurer has excluded companies whose main activities are comprised of alcohol, weapons, gambling, nuclear power, tobacco or genetic engineering. Carbon Dioxide emissions were also included in the investment decisions.

Sustainability Report: Consistent focus fully integrated in the strategy

"Responsible finance, the careful use of resources, good corporate governance and social commitment in and from Liechtenstein, as well as general corporate responsibility is an essential part of the PrismaLife strategy," said Mr. Beitz. With its voluntary commitment to sustainability reporting, the insurer is now going one step further and integrating sustainability strategically within the company itself. The first sustainability report of PrismaLife is expected to be published in the second half of 2020.
